MEMORANDUM FOR: Legislative Counsel
THROUGH : Chief, Intelligence Institute
FROM : [REDACTED]
STAT Intelligence Institute/OTR
SUBJECT : Congressional Staff Speaker for the Intelligence
Process Course

1. The Intelligence Process Course gives relatively new professional intelligence officers a thorough and integrated view of intelligence collection, processing, and production. The course has profited in the past year from presentations by W. Clark McFadden, II, of the Senate Armed Forces Committee and Charles Meissner of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Each of these staff members used his experience to present his view of Congress as an intelligence consumer, precisely the area we wanted to be discussed.

2. We are again seeking a speaker for the Intelligence Process Course. We have the period between 0830 and 1030 the morning of Wednesday, 13 October, open in our schedule. The briefing would take place in Room 912 of the Chamber of Commerce Building.

3. From our past experience, Mr. McFadden would be our first choice. We understand that he would have been quite willing to have spoken to our most recent class last spring had not pressing legislation on the floor of the Senate kept him away. In addition to Mr. McFadden and Mr. Meissner, we also think Frank Slatinshek, Chief Counsel, House Armed Services Committee, would be a good speaker for our topic.

Mr. Hogan:

FYI.

We do not have any copies of the Feb. 3, 1976 transcript. According to CIA, they have original plus one.

Mr. Cary brought over a copy that I checked for voucher purposes, but took it back with him.

Should we have a copy?
